

TENANTS WORKING TOGETHER:

PASS ME YOUR LEASE!

Landlords

Building owners often take advantage of the arrival of a new tenant to greatly increase the amount of rent.

Tenants

When you sign a new lease, you have the right to know the amount of rent the previous tenant was paying.

HOW MUCH RENT WAS THE PREVIOUS TENANT PAYING?

According to the law, landlords must indicate on the lease the lowest amount of rent paid in the past 12 months. This amount must be shown in the “Notice to New Tenant” section (section G) of the lease. Landlords often leave this section blank, or if it is filled out, the tenant has no tool to verify whether the landlord entered a truthful amount.

Therefore, if you’re moving, give a copy of your lease to the new tenant!

- If you move, pass on the lease directly to the new tenant — or, if possible, you can mail your old lease to your former address.

HOW DO YOU AVOID BEING THE TARGET OF EXCESSIVE RENT INCREASES?

Recourses available through the Tribunal Administratif du Logement

- If the previous rent entered in the lease is lower than the asking price, you have 10 days from the moment the lease is signed to demand a review of the rent amount.
- If the landlord has not indicated the amount of rent paid by the previous tenant in the lease, you have up to 2 months after the beginning of the lease to apply for a review of the amount of your rent.
- If the landlord has made a false statement, you have up to 2 months from the time of the discovery of the fraud to apply for a review of the amount of rent by the rental board.

Promoting a rent registry!

To prevent fraudulent practices and to address the spike in rents, the Coalition of Housing Committees and Tenant Associations of Quebec (RCLALQ) is demanding that the Provincial Government establish a Rent Registry that would be free and available to the general public.
